Testing and evaluation

The Family and Friends Testing and Evaluation Book provides different ways of evaluating children's progress, through ongoing assessment, children's self-assessment and formal testing.

1 Classroom evaluation

Ongoing classroom evaluation is key to assessing children's progress. This can be achieved in a number of ways.

Monitoring

When children are engaged in productive activities such as speaking or writing, walk around the classroom and check their progress, and offer help where appropriate.

Regular reviews in the Class Book and Workbook

The purpose of the double-page Review section in the Class Book and Workbook is to revise the main learning points of the units, giving you an opportunity to evaluate how much children have understood.

- Always start the lesson by revising the language of the units, using flashcards to focus on vocabulary. It's also useful to sing the songs again to help children memorise the key words. You may wish to make notes on which children are still having difficulty in recognizing or producing words. These notes can be recorded later on the teacher's evaluation sheet (see below).
- Go through the Class Book review activities. Explain first what children have to do to complete each exercise. Give children time to check their answers. Observe how individual children respond to the exercise.
- Go through the answers to each activity with the whole class as a group.

The evaluation sheet

A teacher's evaluation sheet is provided on page 3. This is to help you keep ongoing records of children's progress in skills and attitudes towards learning. This evaluation sheet can be completed every semester. From this information you can plan further activities to develop the language of those children who have mastered the skills work easily and to reinforce the language of those children who are having difficulties.

2 Self-evaluation

Self-evaluation is a key part of children's development as language learners. It encourages important learning skills such as monitoring progress, setting goals and assessing their own learning styles.

Talk to children about how they feel about their work. Use the self-evaluation activity page at the end of the Class Book Review page which shows smiley faces. Ask individual children to express whether they feel happy or worried about their progress in English. Encourage all children to choose and colour the appropriate smiley face. It is highly motivational for children to feel that their teacher is taking an interest in their self-assessment, so make time to comment on children's assessments. If a child expresses particular difficulties in the self-assessment, arrange to talk to him/her after the class.

3 Testing

Tests are a more objective check on what exactly children have learnt and what needs more consolidation. From this diagnostic information you can decide on remedial activities.

Pupils can be encouraged to realize that testing is not only a way of assessing their progress, but also a way of helping them. It helps you to see what errors the pupils are making, and will help them correct their errors. Mistakes need not be presented in a negative light; rather as a positive stage in learning to guide pupils towards future progress.

Types of tests in Family and Friends

The Family and Friends Test Booklet contains the following tests:

- Unit tests 0–15: There are sixteen one-page Unit tests which cover the vocabulary and grammar content presented in each core unit, including the introductory Hello unit. Each test contains two vocabulary activities and two grammar activities. The Unit tests can be administered at the end of each unit.
- Summative tests 1–5: These are two-page tests which cover the vocabulary, grammar and phonics of the previous three units. The phonics activities include one listening activity, supplied on the course audio material. The Summative tests can be administered at the end of Units 3, 6, 9, 12 and 15 respectively.

- Skills tests 1–5: These are two-page tests which cover the content of the previous three units and evaluate the four key skills of Listening, Reading, Writing and Speaking. The Listening section of each Skills test includes two listening activities, supplied on the course audio material. The Skills tests can be administered at the end of Units 3, 6, 9, 12 and 15 respectively.

Administering a test

Testing is an important part of the teaching/learning process. Pupils can become anxious about tests, so it is important to create a calm and supportive environment. Before setting a test, have a quick warm-up session on the language to be covered in the test.

Explain the scoring system to the class so that they feel responsible for their own learning process. All the Unit tests in Family and Friends 1 have a total of 15 marks. The Summative tests' total is 25 marks and the Skills tests' total is 30 marks.

Grading for Unit tests is as follows:

14–15	Excellent
11–13	Very good
7–10	Good
4–6	Satisfactory
0–3	Needs further work

Grading for Summative tests is as follows:

21–25	Excellent
16–20	Very good
11–15	Good
6–10	Satisfactory
0–5	Needs further work

Grading for Skills tests is as follows:

24–30	Excellent
18–23	Very good
12–17	Good
6–11	Satisfactory
0–5	Needs further work

Administering the Speaking section of the Skills test

Each of the five Skills tests offers an opportunity to evaluate speaking skills through a short individual speaking activity. You may wish to carry this out while the rest of the pupils are completing the written parts of the Skills tests. Ask each individual pupil to come to the front of the class or to a quiet corner one by one with their copy of the test. Some pupils may feel anxious so encourage them to relax and feel at ease. The speaking activities involve recognizing pictures and saying the corresponding words or answering simple questions. You can give each pupil a couple of simple questions that they already know to get them started, such as What's your name? How are you? before focusing on the test activity.

Speaking attainment targets

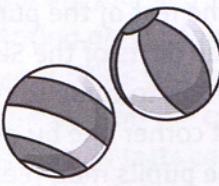

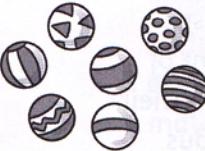

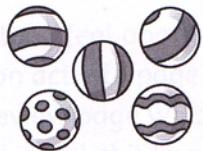

For each item in the Speaking test, children can receive half a point for communicating their meaning – this is an opportunity to reward communication skills. They can receive another half point if the sentence is accurate and contains no errors.
